Background

After completing VCE in 2004, I joined the Royal Australian Navy as a Maritime Warfare Officer, which saw me live and work around Australia and overseas for eleven years. I completed roles in navigation, warfare, ship handling, recruit training, instructing, aide de camp duties, leadership and management and completed a six-month deployment in the Middle East in 2014. My time in Navy fostered professionalism, team work, discipline, dedication, loyalty, patience, time management, leadership and management skills and resilience and exposed me to a range of unique experiences. I have transferred to Navy Reserves as a Leadership Coach, Leadership Workshop Facilitator and Culture Developer, which complements my own Coaching and Professional Development business. Both these endeavours allow me the flexibility and freedom to pursue my passion for the arts.
